UB Students Will Run City On April 30

BRIDGEPORT DAY, the third in the history of the University will be held on April 30, at which time students will take over the duties of Mayor Jasper McLevy, and his common council.

SPONSORED BY the Political Relations Forum, students interested in partaking in Bridgeport Day festivities should get an application blank at the Social Activities Office, 2nd floor of Alumni Hall. Fifty signatures must accompany an application for the position of Mayor, and 25 for Alderman. A student, to be considered, must be in good standing scholastically (maintaining a 2.0 average).

THE FESTIVITIES for Civic Day include observing City Hall in action; sitting in on the common council chambers; and presenting bills before the Council.

THE ACTIVITIES will start with a motorcade from the campus to City Hall, with a police escort. An address by the mayor will follow. The students appointed by the mayor to fill the various positions of Police Chief, Fire Chief, etc., will then take their various posts for the remainder of the day.

IVAN SCHAFFEL is heading Civic Day; aided by the members of the Political Relations Forum.

STUDENTS WHO have previously filled the position of Mayor in previous years, have been Robert Weiss '52, and Victor Muniec '53.

Student Education Association Will Meet At Alumni Tonight

Education majors from 14 Connecticut colleges and universities will discuss "The Teachers Place in the Community" when they convene tonight at Alumni Hall in the monthly Inter College Confab, sponsored by the Student Education Association of Connecticut.

FOLLOWING REGISTRATION a tour of the campus and a box supper, a special panel will meet to discuss "What Should Be The Teachers Place in The Community." Members of the committee which will debate on this important subject are: Dr. Harry A. Becker, Superintendent of Schools in Norwalk and former Dean of the College of Education at the University of Bridgeport; Irving Pike, Vice-President of the Westport Teachers League; Mrs. Hugh Smith, of the Weston Board of Education; and Mrs. Anita Vogel, President of the Bridgeport Citizens School Committee.

AFTER THE panel talk, the students will break up into several groups and will conduct various "Buzz Sessions" dealing with topics such as: should teachers belong to a political party?; should teachers drink; should teachers live in the community in which they teach?; and others.

RECREATION AND square dancing will climax the evening's activities with all schools taking part in the general festivities.

SCHOOLS TO be represented are Albert Magnus College (New Haven), Danbury State Teachers College, Fairfield University, Hartt College of Music (West

Underwood Portable To John Schaffner

John Schaffner, a senior majoring in Journalism, spoke on "Crippled Children," and took first prize, an Underwood Portable Typewriter, in the University's annual Public Speaking contest, held last Thursday in the Burrough's Library lecture hall.

An audience of 200 students and faculty members heard six 10 minute speeches delivered by the finalists. Judges were Howard Adelstein, Lee Salisbury and the Rev. Stanley Sellick.

Placing second, to win a Parker 51 fountain pen, was Daniel Leeson, who spoke on the Rosenberg Case. Third place was taken by Gilbert Strunk.

Other speakers participating in the contest were Geraldine Bennett, Louis Albren and Thomas Moore. William Banks acted as chairman of the contest.

State High School Editors Will Meet Here Saturday

by Janet Golden

"A Newspaper Is Human" will be the theme of the Fourth Annual High School Journalism Workshop to be held this Saturday, at Alumni Hall. Pi Delta Epsilon, the national honorary journalism fraternity, in cooperation with members of the SCRIBE, Wistarian and Helicon staffs, will play hosts to students from high schools throughout Connecticut.

Highlight of the day's activities will be the awarding to Paul Cochran, Associated Press Bureau Chief for Connecticut, of the Pi Delta Epsilon Citation for "Outstanding Endeavors in the Field of Journalism." John Daly noted news commentator and moderator of television's "What's My Line" will be cited in absentia by the fraternity for "Outstanding Endeavors in the Field of Journalism Through Radio and Television."

A FULL schedule of activities awaits the aspiring high school journalists who will register for the all-day workshop at 9 A. M. They will then be shown through the SCRIBE offices where members of the staff will demonstrate the processes which start with the reporter gathering news and ends with the newspaper's appearance on campus. A trip to the Bridgeport Sunday Herald offices will follow.

GARY SINGER, former editor of the SCRIBE, will be the chairman of the news and feature writing panel. Singer will be assisted by Myra Seide, Howard Broder and Andrew Demotses, SCRIBE staffers.

THE COPY Editing and Headline Writing panel will be headed by Janet Golden, former Wistarian editor, and will be assisted by Anita Barst of the SCRIBE, and Victor Muniec, former SCRIBE Editor.

NEWSPAPER MAKE-UP discussion will be headed by Richard Handler, former SCRIBE editor. Samuel Marks, SCRIBE Business Manager, will handle advertising make-up. The Sports writing panel will be led by Co-Chairman Mickey Vail, Managing Editor of the SCRIBE, and Don Burke, SCRIBE Sports Editor. Joseph Columbatto of the yearbook sports staff will assist.

THE ENTIRE operation and publication of yearbooks will be discussed by Philip DuBreuil, chairman of the panel, who will be assisted by Joan Beaumont, Wistarian managing editor and Richard Weckler, Wistarian art editor.

Building To Begin In Early Summer; No Site Named

A contribution of $200,000 from The Carlson Foundation, Inc., to the University of Bridgeport for the construction of a modern library building, was announced recently by James H. Halscy, president.

This gift, the largest single donation to the local University since its founding in 1927, was made public at a luncheon in the Stratfield Hotel attended by University trustees, civic officials, and business and industrial leaders.

William Carlson and Philip Carlson, president and treasurer of The Carlson Foundation, Inc., had notified University officials sometime previously of their desire to provide funds for a library building and final arrangements for the contribution were culminated this week.

Dr. Henry W. Littlefield, vice president of the University of Bridgeport revealed that this new building will be called the Carlson Library. He also indicated that although the site has not yet been definitely determined, the building will be located in a central spot on the campus. It is hoped that construction can be started with appropriate ground breaking ceremonies early this summer and that the building will be ready for occupancy in the spring of 1955. A special committee of trustees, faculty members, and students is studying building plans with C. Wellington Walker, architect, and further details will be announced soon.

This contribution of $200,000 from The Carlson Foundation brings the total raised in the University's current development fund drive to approximately $660,000. The original goal of the drive was for funds for three new buildings — a gymnasium-auditorium, a library, and a student center. The student center was realized last year through cooperative efforts of alumni, students, and parents, and has been in use as Alumni Hall for more than a year. Thus, with this new contribution earmarked exclusively for a library, all other development funds can be released for the gymnasium-auditorium.

The present University library is housed in the east wing of Fones Hall and contains approximately 56,000 volumes and 5,000 pamphlets. It subscribes to more than 500 periodicals and provides back files of those in major fields. It also contains both micro-film and micro-card reading equipment. Lewis M. Ice is the librarian who heads a five-man staff.

The Carlson library will bring to twenty-eight the total number of buildings on the University's Seaside Park campus. The space

Wistaria Weekend Planned To Be Biggest Ever Held

by Howie Broder

The biggest Wistaria Weekend in the history of the University of Bridgeport is being planned for May 7, 8, and 9.

THE GALA three-day weekend will officially be opened by the annual Wistaria Ball, to be presented on the evening of May 7 at the Ritz Ballroom. The traditional Wistaria Queen will be selected from the five finalists at the formal "flower" affair. Candidates may be submitted by fraternities, sororities, dormitories, and individuals. Nominations must be handed into the Social Activities office by 5 P. M. tomorrow. In order to be considered a contestant, the young hopefuls must be in at least their sophomore year, be carrying 12 or more credits, and must not be on probation.

ADMISSION TO the featured event will be by exchanging Student Activity ticket no. 34 for a bid, each S. A. ticket admitting one couple. Information as to who is going to provide the mellow sounds at the Ball has not been released yet.

MRS. MARION LUNN, director of Social Activities, has released the following tentative schedule for Wistaria Weekend: fraternity and sorority picnics will initiate the following days activities, after which the annual Faculty-Student-Alumni Softball games for men and women will be held at Seaside Park.

THE ALUMNI Dinner at Champ's Shorehouse, sponsored by the Alumni Office, will be preceded by an Alumni Tea and Meeting. The Music Hall will be the scene of a feature film and the presentation of the musical "Down in the Valley."

THE WISTARIA Pageant will hold the spotlight Sunday in Marina Circle, with Alumni Hall remaining open for those who wish snacks.

Profs. Are People

It isn't often that the students at the University of Bridgeport get to meet their teachers on a social plane. All too often, we tend to think of ye olde Prof. as a tired, or frustrated Einstein, who is as musty as the books he lectures out of.

Teachers became a little more human, March 28, thanks to a group of people who call themselves the Alumni Hall Recreation Committee. Under their auspices, this Sunday in particular was devoted to a student-faculty baseball game held at Seaside Park; a buffet dinner at Alumni Hall; and a showing of the film, "The Sands of Iwo Jima," at the Technology Building.

A worthwhile job well done deserves our sincerest congratulations. The affair was a success socially and financially.

We're proud of the professors who donned informal attire and matched their athletic prowess with the students. We're equally proud of the students who competed against the profs.

We felt there was no strain at the dinner, which was one of the finest the University has ever made possible to the student body. We noted that even professors have a weakness for ice cream, and that certain teachers are also having the all-time struggle with their waistlines, and are conscientiously dieting.

Bouquets from the SCRIBE to the people who made the affair the successful one it was. We hope to see more like it in the future.

Advice to the Kiddies:

University of Bridgeport audiences are still in their mental diaper days. If this statement seems hard to swallow, we wish you'd attend one of the numerous dances that are scheduled on our social calendar.

Student audiences seem to think that entertainment at a dance is the time to display their "talents." This is the time we hear more catcalls, whistles and assorted noises than at any other time. These things do not prompt people to perform, nor performers to return.

Our students are not young physically. The student body asks for privileges they feel should be extended to adults. Yet, these are the very same people who are still suffering mental diaperitis.

If we are adults, let's start acting like same.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK —

QUESTION: Do you think girls should be allowed to have cars on campus?

CHUCK CONTE - Senior —
Assistant Football Coach —

No — because actually there isn't much need for a girl to have a car. The only reason I can see is that it tends to make a girl feel independent, and a girl is not capable of being an independent individual.

JOHN ESPOSITO - Junior —

Yes — It is my opinion that if the girls are mature (and they should be by now) that they should have the opportunity to drive around — of course in a ladylike manner!

HYMIE KATZ - Soph —

Definitely not — I don't think that the male students should have their lives endangered by having girls drive cars on campus.

JULIE PETERSON - Senior —

Yes — If girls are old enough and responsible enough to go to college, I feel that they should not be restricted from driving cars.

BARBARA GORDON - Fresh —

Yes — So that girls won't have to depend on fellows to get them where they want to go. With a car girls will be able to go anywhere at ALMOST any time.

PHILOMENA ALDO - Soph —

No — I don't feel that is necessary for girls to have cars on campus because every thing is within walking distance.

Paragraphing the News

ON TUESDAY, April 13, there will be a school-wide student-adviser meeting. ALL students are instructed to make appointments with their faculty advisors between 10 A. M. and 12 noon on that day.

STUDENTS WHO plan to discontinue their studies at UB after this semester should file applications at Howland Hall before May 5, in order that the $25 acceptance fee, required of every student, may be returned.

TO THIS date over 300 college students are planning to take advantage of the NSA tours to Europe. There is, at present, a possibility of seven students from the University who will travel with the NSA this summer, but as yet, the only students who are officially enrolled are Dolores Correa and Dolores Stiehler, both of Southport Hall. The girls are planning to take the 75 day — seven nation tour, which will include trips through Holland, Belgium, England, France, Germany, Austria and Switzerland.

SENIORS OF the Arts and Science College are in the process of taking their Graduate Record Examinations. The last available date for the examination will be tomorrow from 1.5 P. M. in T-201, with Dr. Milton Millhauser serving as examining official. Scores from the G. R. E.'s are not expected until the beginning of May, when Dean Ropp plans on discussing briefly with each student the implications of his test findings.

AL DICKASON, director of the Office of Campus Productions, has announced that the cast of "The Night of January 16th" will be fêted at the annual cast party, April 12. Plans have been made to attend the play "Pajama Game," a new musical opening in New Haven. Dickason has requested that everyone assemble at his home for the trip.

EASTER VACATION will begin next Thursday morning, with classes to resume the following Wednesday. The last meal served in Marina Hall will be Thursday evening. All resident halls will be closed, with the exception of one men's and women's dorm.

APPLICATIONS FOR membership on the Alumni Hall Board of Governors will be accepted by Student Council. The applications must contain your name, class, major, address, qualifications, and why you desire this position. Submit applications to the Student Council, Alumni Hall.

THE MODERN Dance Club, under the direction of Flo Amato, gave an exhibition last Thursday and Friday. The group, which has grown considerably since last semester, has done a great deal of Calypso dances which they presented at a basketball game last semester.

At this writing (late Monday evening) the Purple Knights of the Diamond along with all intramural softball teams stand undefeated. A good reason for the unblemished records of all Bridgeport nines is the time at which this column is being written. With opening day (yesterday) for both the varsity baseball team and the intramural softball championships the results of the various games are history.

WHO ASKED ME DEPT. —

I'll go way out on a limb and read the outcome of yesterday's games like this: St. Johns of Brooklyn proved too strong for the Knights in their opening contest of 1954. (I stand correct or corrected by whatever last minute results appear in the story opposite this column). On the intramural scene I'll call yesterday's inaugurals in this manner: SPA, last year's champs knocked-off AGP, POC beat APO, while Park Hall was successful in turning back SLX.

In the over-all season records I predict the first baseball team to be fielded by Bridgeport since 1951 will end the season with nine wins against six defeats. The Knights will defeat New Britain State Teachers twice; Hillyer College twice; New Haven State Teachers twice; Danbury State Teachers and Upsala College. The Knights will split with arch rival Fairfield and lose to St. Johns, Long Island University, Fordham University, Hofstra College and Quonset Point Naval Air Station.

Switching back to the UB intramural sports program, I predict that Callahan A. C. will go on to cop the triple crown of Intramurals with an undefeated season in softball added to their already clean slate in IM football and basketball. The Park Hall wonder nine of last year will have a lot to wonder about. After a few early season successes Park like POC, SPA and AGP will succumb to the heavily loaded Callahan aggregation.

As long as I've gone this far — the St. Louis Cardinals will regain the World Championship of Professional baseball by winning the fall classic in six games over the Chicago White Sox.

CLINK GOES HOLLYWOOD —

Star Alvin Clinkscales, supported by the University of Bridgeport basketball and track teams, will make a short for the American Newsreel Company next Thursday. Location for the movie will be the North End Boys Club and the Seaside Park track where the Clinker will show his skill before the camera.

Netmen To Play Eight Contests; Open April 21

An eight game tentative schedule for the University of Bridgeport's tennis team was released Tuesday afternoon by Herbert E. Glines, Director of Athletics. The racqueteers will open on April 21 against Adelphi College on their home grounds at Laurel Courts and close with New Britain State Teachers College on May 18 at the Hardware City.

Other schools on the incomplete slate include, Wesleyan University, Brooklyn Polytech and Hillyer College. The netmen will play home and home series with Adelphi, New Britain and Hillyer and solo contests against the other two.

In making the schedule known, Glines added that he had been in contact with several other teams and further announcements would be forthcoming.

Miss Cathrine Bogan, who has been named coach of the first net team since 1951, has had the squad drilling on the courts during the past week and seems pretty well set on her opening lineup.

The schedule follows:

April 21, Adelphi (H); 24, Wesleyan (A); 27, Brooklyn Polytech (A); 30, Hillyer (H).

May 4, Adelphi (A); 12, Hillyer (A); 15, New Britain (H); 18, New Britain (A).

The St. John's University Redmen proved too strong for the Purple Knights of the University of Bridgeport and rolled over coach John McKeon's fledgling baseball team 17-3 in the season's opener at Bushwick Stadium in Brooklyn, N. Y. yesterday afternoon in a game limited to six innings because of darkness.

After taking a three run lead in the first inning, the Purple and White were never in the ball game as the Redmen pushed across six runs in the second, three in the fourth, two in the fifth and six more in the sixth.

The score:

UB	3	5	9
ST. JOHNS	17	12	2

McCooley, Lugg (5), Zewinski (6) and Giansello
Eichhorn, Heerlein (4) and Kerrigan

Saturday afternoon will again find the Purple and White in New York City, this time to meet Long Island University at Brookville, Long Island.

The Knights will be coming up against an experienced club that compiled a 15-5 record in 1953 including wins in their last eleven contests and have three games under their belts this season. The Blackbirds walloped Long Island A. & T. 10-1 and Seton Hall 3-2 in their first two games this year.

McKeon will probably start Gene Zewinski against the Brooklynites with Willard Umstadter doing the mopping up, thus following his announcement that he will use several pitchers in each of the first few games because of the cold weather and short practice.

"Buck" Lai, coach of the Blackbirds will be counting on veterans Joe Bono the team's leading swatter last season and RBI king John Pergolizzi. Creon Psome, who hurled the opener against the LI Aggies Saturday will be looking for his second victory of the season when the teams clash in the LIU campus.

IM SOFTBALL OPENS TWO LEAGUES SETUP

The 1954 intramurals softball race got underway yesterday afternoon with defending champions Sigma Phi Alpha taking on Alpha Gamma Phi, Park Hall, 1953 "B" league titlists meeting Sigma Lambda Chi and Alpha Phi Omega clashing with last season's runners-up Pi Omega Chi.

Twelve teams have been entered in this year's play and two leagues have been formed by Timmy Ryan and Ralph Consiglio, directors of softball intramurals. The American League will consist of SPA, AGP, TS, KBR, SOS and Callahan A. C., while the National League is made up of Park Hall, Trumbull Hall, APO, POC, SLX and DEB.

The round robin tournament will carry through three weeks, during which time each team will face each other squad in its respective league. At the end of the three week period the winner and runners-up in each division will clash in a semi-final elimination round with the winners of that game to meet for the title.

In last year's play SPA and Park Hall took their division crowns but POC knocked the "Hall" out of the finals while SPA was taking a disputed victory from AGP. In the final contest SPA won by a handy 12-1 count for their second straight softball crown.

The schedule for the week follows:

Thursday, KBR-SOS; TS-Callahan; DEB-Trumbull. Monday, DEB-POC; AGP-KBR; Park-APO. Tuesday, Callahan-SPA; SLX-Trumbull; TS-SOS.

Queen's Court To Be Picked In Gala Show

SOMETHING NEW will be added to the selection of the Wistaria Queen this year, an innovation that will truly find the "reigning monarch of beauty" on campus.

A GALA beauty pageant, complete with beauty parade a la Miss America, judged by off-campus impartial people, will select five finalists from among an expected 20 candidates on Saturday, May 1, after an eye raising beauty parade in Alumni Hall. The finalists will then be put to a vote by the general student body, and the "Wistaria Queen — 1954" will emerge.

PRELIMINARY CONTESTANTS will come as representatives of fraternities and sororities on campus, such as Miss Sigma Phi Alpha, or Miss Theta Epsilon, as well as "unattached" female members of the student body. Upper classmen, or women, as the case may be, are eligible, leaving freshmen out in the cold.

NOMINATIONS ALSO have been changed. Rather than the previous 25 signatures required for a candidate to be eligible, it was decided that any girl who so desires, may enter. All that is needed is an application form, available in the Alumni Hall office.

LET'S GO beauties! The race is on.

The Carlson Brothers have made other contributions to the University, notably a substantial donation in 1949 for equipping the auditorium in the new Engineering-Technology building. They also sponsor a scholarship for three young men from local high schools and last fall financed several "television scholarships" for persons enrolled in the University's televised courses. Their benefactions also include contributions to numerous other local charitable, educational, and welfare agencies. William Carlson is chairman of the finance committee of the Connecticut Symphony Orchestra and was the Ringmaster for the 1952 Barnum Festival.
